The image shows a hand at the top holding a sprig of rosemary, with some leaves falling onto the pie below. The pie is a rectangular, multi-layered dish, likely a Portuguese-style 'cozido' or 'cozido da casa', featuring layers of meat (possibly pork or beef), cheese, and vegetables. It is garnished with fresh rosemary. The pie sits on a white plate. In the foreground, there are two tomatoes: one whole and one cut in half, showing its seeds. The background is a light-colored, textured surface, possibly a marble countertop.
